Defense subsidiary: Top Secret FCL

INNOVIM, LLC supports NASA, NOAA, and Department of Defense missions through scientific expertise, data engineering, software development, secure infrastructure, and program delivery. Our wholly owned subsidiary, INNOVIM Defense Services, LLC (IDS), holds a Top Secret facility clearance. INNOVIM welcomes prime and subcontract teaming discussions for federal science, technology, and mission-support requirements.

Core capabilities

Data Engineering, Science, and AI Analytics

Data ingestion, integration, metadata, cloud migration, analytics, and machine-learning development supporting scientific and operational information.

Mission-Critical IT and Cloud Operations

Infrastructure, networks, databases, storage, and technical support for distributed mission environments, including 24/7 operations.

Sensing Systems and Instrument Support

Earth-observation data, calibration and validation support, ground processing, and scientific computing.

Software and Systems Engineering

Agile development, DevSecOps, automated testing, systems integration, and deployment engineering across legacy and modern environments.

Cybersecurity, Risk Management, and Compliance

Risk management, authorization support, vulnerability remediation, identity and access controls, and continuous monitoring.

Weather, Water, and Climate Decision Systems

Environmental analysis, modeling, space weather, and scientific program services supporting mission decisions.

Program management and quality connect these capabilities through workforce coordination, resource planning, structured oversight, and ISO 9001:2015-certified quality management.
